Toxicological Risk Assessment Evaluation (U.S.) for “Black Beard for Men”

Client: Blackbeard for Men

Address: 3740 W. 58th Pl, Los Angeles, CA 90043

Product Name: Black Beard For Men

Colors: Dark Brown, Medium Brown, Light Brown, Brown- Auburn, Brown-Black

Background

These mascara products for coloring beards are intended to be used by responsible adults. Quantitative lists of the ingredients in these mascaras (dark brown, medium brown, light brown, brown-auburn, brown-black) were submitted for review (Appendix A). It is assumed that these ingredients contain no contaminants at concentrations that would be toxic or corrosive to an exposed consumer. The maximum amount of mascara in a single consumer product is 12 milliliters.

Blackbeard For Men, 3740 W. 58th Pl, Los Angeles, CA 90043 has requested that these mascara products be evaluated for potential acute and chronic toxicity via dermal contact, inhalation and ingestion as well as corrosive/irritation potential and sensitization (allergic reactions) potential as defined in the U.S. Federal Hazardous Substance Act (FHSA) Regulations (16 CFR Parts 1500.3, 1500.4, 1500.5, 1500.12, 1500.13, 1500.17, 1500.40, 1500.41, 1500.42, 1500.129 and 1500.135). Since this product is considered to be a cosmetic, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) Regulations for Cosmetics (21 CFR Parts 73, 74, 81, 82 & 700) were also consulted for this assessment. This evaluation was done by subjecting the ingredients in these mascaras to a Toxicological Risk Assessment (TRA).

A TRA is a procedure that was originally recommended by the U.S. National Academy of Sciences and has been used for decades by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to estimate risks from exposures to hazardous substances found in toxic waste sites. This TRA procedure has also been modified to evaluate risks of exposures to hazardous chemicals found in or released from consumer products. A TRA for a chemical of concern is intended to estimate the potential health risks from exposures to that chemical by an individual. One of the key assumptions behind this concept is that health risks from a chemical are a function of exposures

to that chemical and the toxicity of that chemical. If exposures do not occur or a chemical is practically nontoxic, the potential health risks from that chemical are toxicologically insignificant. A TRA for a given consumer product is generated by calculating hypothetical worst-case exposure scenario values for the chemicals of concern in or released from that product (Exposure Assessment). These hypothetical worst case exposure values are then divided by appropriate regulatory agency-established toxicity exposure threshold values (Toxicity Assessment) to derive quantitative estimates of potential health risks (Risk Assessment) from the chemicals of concern in or released from that product. The primary assumption throughout this risk assessment process is that the magnitude of the health risk to a chemical depends of the exposures to that chemical and the toxicity of that chemical.

Exposure Assessment

An exposure assessment scenario for a given chemical of concern to a potential consumer consists of creating a series of logical pathways and events whereby that chemical could reasonably be expected to come into contact with that consumer. For this assessment, as much as 12 milliliters of one of these mascaras in a single consumer product may be expected to contact the skin of a consumer as frequent multiple exposure events and/or smaller amounts of mascaras may occasionally be ingested (via hand-to-mouth activities) and/or may rarely contact the eyes, (via finger-to eye contacts), as single exposure events. Residues that evaporate from these mascaras are expected to be diluted at least 100-fold with fresh ambient air before they are inhaled.

Toxicity Assessment

Searches of the National Library of Medicine's toxicological databases and information from other sources provided no data to indicate that exposures to these mascaras as described above would be expected to cause significant acute or chronic toxicity via dermal contact, inhalation or ingestion or be corrosive or irritating to the skin or eyes of consumers who may be exposed as described above. None of the ingredients in these mascaras have been designated "strong sensitizers" under the regulations cited above.

Risk Assessment/Conclusions

The potential risk from a chemical substance to an individual is a function of both the exposure to and the toxicity of that chemical. Since none of the ingredients in as much as 12 milliliters of these mascaras would be expected to cause significant acute or chronic toxicity via dermal contact, inhalation or ingestion or be corrosive or irritating to the skin or eyes of consumers who may be exposed as described above, it is reasonable to conclude that these types of health risks from exposures to them are expected to be toxicologically insignificant. None of the ingredients in these mascaras would be expected to cause a sensitization (allergic) reaction in exposed individuals and none of these ingredients are banned or restricted for use in consumer products, including cosmetics, sold in the U.S. and the colorants in these products have been approved for use in cosmetics by the FDA.

Based on a review of all the available information provided to date and if the assumptions mentioned above are correct, it is this toxicologist's opinion that this "Black Beard for Men" product may be expected to be safe when used as intended and under circumstances involving reasonable foreseeable misuse.

This does not extend to include reports and certificates prepared for the client solely for the purpose of fulfilling the obligations under the contract, which shall remain with the client. However, TÜV Rheinland is entitled to make file copies of such reports, certificates and confidential information that forms the basis for preparing these reports and certificates in order to evidence the correctness of its results and for general documentation purposes required by laws, regulations and the requirements of working procedures of TÜV Rheinland.

10.7 From the start of the contract and for a period of three years after termination or expiry of the contract, the receiving party shall maintain strict secrecy of all confidential information and 12.3 In cases involving a fundamental breach of contract, TÜV Rheinland will be liable even where minor negligence is involved. For this purpose, a "fundamental breach" is breach of a material contractual obligation, the performance of which permits the due performance of the contract. Any claim for damages for a fundamental breach of contract shall be limited to the amount of damages reasonably foreseen as a possible consequence of such breach of contract at the time of the breach (reasonably foreseeable damages), unless any of the circumstances described in article 12.2 applies.
